UNOFFICIAL PRIMARY ELECTION RETURNS

Early returns from the Primary Election of last Tuesday show a light vote cast and that Senator Harding has undoubtedly carried the State of Ohio as the peoples first choice for Presidential candidate with General Leonard Wood as second. It also seems to show that H. M. Daugherty has been defeated as delegate at large; one of the "big four." There may or may not be a significance attached to this phenomenon of the principal, (Mr. Harding) receiving the endorsement while the campaign manager, (Mr. Daugherty) was denied seat as a delegate in the National Convention; if there is any special significance it may be that it is sign that the rank and file of the party have made up their minds to relegate the political manipulators to the realm of innocuous disfigure and shoope their leaders directly.

Fulton County republicans registered a majority for Wood for first choice for president. The unofficial count showing Harding 420, Wood 640. There was a considerable vote for Johnson not shown on the primary or unofficial count taken by the board of elections Wednesday when the ballots were brought in. Wood delegates at large and also district delegates carried the county very plainly indicating that General Wood is the choice of a majority of the Republicans of this county.

Following are the totals of the Republican vote in the county, unofficial, we hope to give the detailed official count of the vote in next weeks issue of the Tribune:

Harding, 420.
Wood, 640.

Vice President
Washington 300
Webster, 378.

Delegates at Large
Boyd-Wood delegate, 570.
Daugherty, 843.
Garvin, 411.
Herrick, 417.
Turner (Wood Delegate) 586.
Willis, 476.

Alternates
Brower, 341.
Cottrell, 342.
Jones, 324.
Vail, 593.

District Delegates
Franks, 342.
Kreider, 510.
Longnecker, 480.
Spangler, 544.

Alternates
Rommick, 411.
Tabler, 300.
Troyer, 269.

Royalton township voted to dissolve the rural school district and join it with the Lyons special school district which will, in effect, give Royalton a centralized school.

The Democratic Primary

No contests in the Democratic presidential preference primary naturally resulted in a light democratic vote. The unofficial count gives the following totals:

For president, James M. Cox, 165.

Delegates at Large
James E. Campbell, 117.
Judson Harmon, 126.
E. H. Moore, 111.
Atlee Pomeroy, 117.

Alternates
Wm. Green, 100.
Lazard Kahn, 126.
Geo. S. Long, 94.
John L. Shuff, 90.

District Delegates
D. M. Bailey, 74.
H. F. Conn, 61.
Geo. T. Farrell, 65.

Alternates
F. W. Rober, 89.
Wm. Schaffer, 90.

An estimate based upon the vote for the presidential candidates of both parties would place the total vote cast in Fulton County last Tuesday at about 1500.

NOT MUCH

A toast delivered at Chesterfield School Tuesday evening:

(Toasts)

A funeral march by Charles Chaplin

Much — lexicologists tell us — means "magnitude," the antithesis of which is "smallness." So if you are small — you are "not much."

Now don't all begin to swell up with importance.

It is a correlative term. To drive from Wauseon to Toledo is a matter of a few weeks among the small — you are "not much."

We have a young man in Wauseon who as a matter of fact isn't much, and yet to yearning old maids he rises in magnitude. He's the last chance, and having no competition, nothing with which to be compared he naturally is "much" sought after by those maidens who have been left at the post in life's race.

He yet he is "not much" and if it wasn't for so "much" or rather if the objects of his affections were not too "much" he would have been married years since.

I think of this sad episode in the life of the young man I am almost moved to tears.

For once upon a time this young gallant went a few weeks among the Mormons in Utah, and this is what he wrote back home, as to one of his love affairs.

"It was leap year when I was there — and seventeen young widows — the wives of a deceased Mormon — offered me their hearts and hands. I called on them one day — and, taking their soft white hands in mine — which made eighteen hands altogether — I found them in tears. And I said — 'Why is this?'"

They said — 'Oh — you are a different size. They said: 'Oh — soon thou wilt be gonest away.'"

I told them that when I got ready to leave a place I wentest. They said, 'Doth not like us?'

I said, 'I doth, I doth!'

I also said: 'I hope your intentions are honorable — as I am a lone child — my parents being far — away in Ohio.'

They then said, 'Wilt not marry us?'

I said, 'Oh — no — it can not was.'"

Again they asked young widows them — and again I declined. When they cried:

"Oh — cruel man! This is too much — oh! too much!"

I told them that it was on account of the muchness that I declined.

Your appreciative son.

So if the young ladies have longed for "much," or feel for them life quipped in "not much," remember we have in Wauseon a beautiful, fair haired suitor that in truth is "not much," but in fact, owing to his age and matrimonial aspirations, is "much" matrimonially speaking, one who by experience backed by a natural ability as a spooner certainly is both, mushy and muchy, one from whom girlhood, L. C. 16 to 18, may expect much, maidens, 19 to 25, may expect much, old maids, 25 to 40 may expect muchest and widows, with or without teeth with a perfect 30 or an impossible 52, no one barred — can expect the most and muchier, machiest little mucher that we have ever known.

Some day it will be said, "He is not much, he is simply was," for his muchness will be swallowed up in the halo of a bridal altar and his sweet voice drowned out by the beautiful strains of that new wedding march — The can-can is coming, yea have come, is here, and yet withal, pink tie and celluloid collar, hump and all, Reas will be "not much."

MRS. MATTHEWS TRONBLE

Lena Gantz was born in Germany in 1847 and when a child six years old came with her parents to America, locating in Monroe, Mich.

In 1869 she was united in marriage to Mathews Tronble and in 1871 they came to Wauseon where they resided during the remainder of their lives.

Into this home were born five children, three sons and two daughters. One son and one daughter have preceded her into the great beyond, leaving two sons, John and Julius and one daughter, Miss Rose Tronble and many friends to cherish her memory.

She was a member of the Lutheran church and lived a faithful consistent christian life. She was a kind and loving mother and a good neighbor. She held the respect and esteem of all who knew her.

For the past three years she has made her home with her son John, upon the death of his wife.

The funeral services were held from the United Brethren church Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. P. Hopkins and interment made in Wauseon cemetery.

We have a nice line of mens ox-fords in all lasts and sizes from $4 to $10.

MUSICAL

Don't miss the annual grade musical which will be given at the High School auditorium Wednesday evening, May 6th at 7:30, admission will be 20 cents.

THE COMING GIRL

The feckle girl, her box of sweets and passionate love story and her extreme styles all will be pass in less than five years.

This declaration by Mary E. Woolley, one of the foremost women educators in the country, president of Mt. Holyoke College, before a group of prominent Ohio women in Cleveland almost caused a sensation when three young women their noses upturned, left the audience. But 300 others remained to raptly applaud.

Miss Woolley, who is out "stumping" for a $3,000,000 endowment fund to raise salaries of professors at the college and to extend courses for girls, was emphatic in her declaration, "that the idle girl is fast becoming a nonentity."

"You'll see, all of you," she declared, "that in five years there will be a mighty dearth in candy sales and in the annual 'six best sellers.' Girls of America are becoming more serious by necessity. Heretofore they have been an economic problem, to some extent, to the heads of families."

"In five years the majority of girls will be an economic asset. We have practically shut off all aid in our labor and industrial fields from foreign countries. Some one must fill the gap. Your idle girls must do it with their brains and with their hands."

All sizes and patterns in work shirts that are made right, such as Peninsular, Moore Patent sleeve, Winner and Racine, $1.50 up, cheaper grade at $1.39.

TO SAVE BABY CHICKS

Put this in the drinking water.

Most people lose half of every hatch, and seem to expect it. Chick cholera or white diarrhoea is the trouble.

This loss is needless and easily stopped, by putting Avicol in the drinking water. We prove it by this offer:

Call at our store for a 25c or 50c package of Avicol. If you don't find that it promptly stops your chicks dying, cures white diarrhoea and all other bowel diseases of poultry, your money will be refunded.

Avicol revives the drooping chicks and helps them grow and develop rapidly. Shows positive results in 48 hours. Easily used and inexpensive.
